BANK OF MONTREAL CROP REPORT

22nd August, 1923.

General: Harvesting is now in progress in the southern portions of the Prairie Provinces and should be general within a week. The weather conditions on the whole are favourable.

In Alberta the yield should be above the average. In Saskatchewan results will not be as good as anticipated owing to damage by rust and saw-ty.

In Manitoba the wheat coming forward is of lower grade than last year. In Ontario the wheat crop is low.

Wheat shows wheat above average and quality good. Cool weather has retarded ripening of grain in Quebec. Cutting of oats has begun, an average yield. Potatoes a good crop. New Brunswick yield is below average. Potatoes very promising. In Nova Scotia conditions are favourable for all crops. Bumper hay crop here and in Prince Edward Island. In British Columbia grain crop satisfactory. Okanagan apple crop, twenty percent, above last year's.

Prairie Provinces

Edmonton District: Good ripening weather prevails. Slight hail damage some districts. Harvesting has commenced and will be general in a week. Calgary District: Weather ideal for ripening crops. Harvesting has commenced and will be general about 27th. Yield expected to be above average. Lethbridge District: Conditions continue favourable though wet weather has delayed cutting which is fairly general. Threshing will commence in a week. Saskatoon District: Harvesting now fairly general, but wet weather in some parts is impeding operations. Rust has reduced yield, but damage not widely extended and good average crop anticipated. Regina District: Reports from the southern section show patchy conditions, yield varying from heavy to light and ten bushels of low grade. South-central and eastward portions districts cutting of oats commenced. Rust has reduced yield, but damage not widely extended and good average crop anticipated. Winnipeg District: At least twenty-five percent of harvesting completed under favourable conditions except in the north where showers have caused delay. Wheat shipments coming forward, grain generally much lower than last year, and yield shows wide variation.

Province of Quebec

Grain generally of good appearance, but ripening retarded by unreasonable weather, and in some sections also lodged by heavy rains and wind. In the Laurentian and Ottawa Valley districts cutting of oats commenced, average yield estimated. Rots late, but generally doing well, good crop anticipated, especially potatoes. The apple crop will probably be light. Pastures are in fair condition.

Province of Ontario

The threshing of fall wheat is now well under way. The yield is above the average and the quality good. Spring grains now being harvested. Corn has improved and a good crop is now assured. Fall and winter apples promise well. Rots are making good progress; pastures are still dried up.

Maritime Provinces

In New Brunswick St. John Valley hay crop below average, potatoes are doing well and a good clean crop is looked for. In northern districts hay and grain pastures are only fair. In the eastern districts crops generally are good. Nova Scotia weather continues favourable for all crops. Annapolis Valley early fruit ripening well. Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have bumper hay crops.

Province of British Columbia

Recent rains have benefited pastures and root crops. Grains a good crop, above average in Nicola and Kamloops districts. Harvesting should be completed in ten days. Owing to damage from hail, scab in certain sections; estimated total crop of Okanagan apples now reduced but is twenty percent over year ago. General conditions above par. Pears, plums and prunes below average.

CATS CRUELLY TRAPPED IN LONDON

Cats are being cruelly trapped in London. Two boys brought their pet cat to the North Kensington Branch of the People's Dispensary for Sick Animals of the Poor on June 12. A length of several four strand fine copper wire projected from its mouth. At the other end of the wire, firmly embedded in the animal's gullet, was a large fish-hook. The animal was put under an anaesthetic, and the hook extracted. The hook, baited with meat, had evidently been secured to a railing. The cat, struggling to gain release, broke the wire and made its escape. Several complaints of the same practice have been received from other parts of London.

LESLIEVILLE HISTORY

Twenty years ago, on August 31st, 1903, Mr. and Mrs. John Reilly and family arrived in Red Deer, having come from Toronto, Ont., to take positions on the staff of the Indian Industrial School near Red Deer. They stayed there for one and a half years, when they moved west to take up a homestead. They came as first settlers in T. 29, R. 5, W. 5, to what is well and favorably known as Leslieville. They squatted for a year and a half, as the township was not open for filing on. After a year or so the settlers came flocking in. Among them was Mr. E. Bureau, who started a general store, and with the support of some of the people, he got a post office, which is still going.

Many changes have taken place in this part of our fair province. Forests have been changed into beautiful fields of timothy hay and wheat, oats, barley and potatoes.

We have roads and bridges now, where we then had nothing but trails and no bridges. Thanks to Senator Michener for his part in the getting of roads and bridges.

We have a church and Sunday school as well as day schools. Also a good community hall; and then not least among our improvements is the C.N.R., that runs through the village to Nordberg, 3 trains each way per week.

We have an elevator here also, and many other advantages that the old timers did not have, but it is the pioneers like Mr. and Mrs. Reilly that helped to make Alberta what it is today, and it is hoped by a large circle of friends that they will be spared many years to enjoy the fruits of their labor.

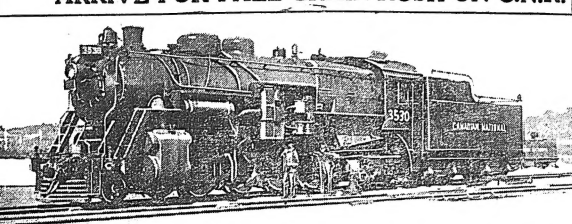

MAN'S NORMAL SPAN 120 TO 140 YEARS

The normal span of life should approximate some of the ripe old biblical ages, according to Dr. Leonard Williams, a distinguished physician, who says a man should live not 70 years, but 120 or 140.

"To call a man a martyr to rheumatism is as fantastic as though we called a man a martyr to delirium tremens," he asserted. "If we get a disease, we ought not to be pitied as victims, but commended as fools. There is nothing heaven-sent or inevitable about illness."

He blamed the Bible for any idea to the contrary, and also for the fact that "in matters psychological we are content with a very low level of mediocrity," and said man had acquired his mental superiority over other animals at the expense of his intuition, citing as proof that "man is the only animal who doesn't know how to feel himself."

HUGE LOCOMOTIVES OF THE MIKADO TYPE ARRIVE FOR FALL GRAIN RUSH ON C.N.R.

New locomotives of the Mikado type for the movement of the 1923 grain crop over the Canadian National Railways have begun to reach the West. The new locomotives, which were built at Montreal, are of the latest type with all new improvements. They are 73 feet in length and weigh approximately 450,000 pounds with a drawbar pull equal to 5,500 tons. The engines, which are for freight use, are equipped with automatic stokers, Westinghouse air brakes and air reverse and have the new type of Worthington feeder, water heater and pump. One of the changes in the new engine is the cab design, all mountings being installed in a box outside of the cab instead of inside the cab as in former types.

Twenty-three of the new engines are coming West for the Manitoba division in time for the beginning of the grain movement and 22 are coming for the Saskatchewan division. An idea of the size of the new engines may be gathered from the fact that before starting out on a run they require 12 tons of coal and 8,000 gallons of water to complete their tender supplies. The new engines are all equipped with the Booster truck and ten of those to be delivered later will have Booster engines installed. These provide practically additional motive power on the tender and are of great value in starting heavy trains. The engines are being placed in service as quickly as they reach the Western divisions.

WESTERN CENTRAL STATES EXPERIENCE REAL COLD WAVE

Chicago, August 23rd.—Freezing temperatures in North Dakota, frosts in Northern Minnesota and unseasonably cool temperatures in central and northern states, yesterday brought out light overcasts in St. Louis, Chicago and other places. The chilly wave was moving eastward over the upper and lower lake region. Kansas City reported 52 degrees at 8 a.m., the lowest temperature for a corresponding date in the history of the weather bureau there.

A temperature of 32 degrees was reported near Duluth, Minn., although the official temperature for that city was 41.

Government Control of Liquors Means Increased Revenue

In the control of all liquors by the Government of Quebec, two points stand out prominently:

1. That under government control there is less drunkenness than when licenses and the Scott Act were in force.
2. There has been a large increase in the Provincial Revenues that has enabled the Government of Quebec to prevent the upward trend of taxes, which have become so burdensome in Alberta.

Law and order have been maintained because 90 per cent of the people are behind its enforcement. An attorney general of Alberta, from his place on the floor of the Legislative Assembly stated that he believed 65 per cent of the people of Alberta were deliberately violating the terms of the Alberta Liquor Act.

If you prefer sane laws, well enforced, to the undesirable conditions now prevailing in Alberta,

NATIVE MUSIC

There is an oft-quoted saying: "Let me make the songs of a nation and I care not who makes its laws." It is one of those epigrammatic exaggerations which gain force by arresting originality and a good deal of half-comprehending repetition. Yet if one is studying a nation one should study its songs. Sometimes they reflect its character very closely. At other times they may help to mould that character in periods of crisis. "The Marseillaise" called out in the raw, half-trained, ill-equipped troops of the first French Republic an ardour of enthusiasm which had its results in Valmy and succeeding triumphs. Was not the German poet Körner said to have sung the great Napoleon out of Germany by the wave of patriotism which his songs evoked? The negro race, in North America at any rate, is so susceptible to the influence of music that it has been described as more easily governed by music than by laws. These who know the great negro training college of Tuskegee, know the use made there of music. The history of a nation will sometimes show itself more clearly in its songs than in any other outward manifestation. The memory of the last great effort on behalf of the lost Stuart cause is preserved in Scotland by tons of songs to every one monument or inscription.

If one were to attempt to judge the character of the English-speaking races of North America, Canadians or subjects of the United States, by their music, one would be inclined to say that there is little of originality and equally little of intensity of feeling. The amount of native music of anything like a striking character, or which is likely to live for any time, is very small with us or the States. The plantation melodies which everybody both here and in Britain knows from infancy, are the songs of the negro slaves, not of the white races. The French Canadian voyageurs have left some haunting songs behind them, better known in Quebec and Eastern Canada than with us in the West. The American Civil War of 1861-1865 produced some songs which still live and are likely to live. The magnificent battle-hymn of the Republic set to the tune usually associated with "John Brown's Body" is one of these. Its effect, when it was heard in St. Paul's Cathedral at the service held to mark the entry of the States into the late war, was most moving. On a minor scale, "Tenting Tonight" is another notable Civil War song, notable, not for any great technical musical excellence—in that respect it is trifling, of course—but for the feeling expressed in it and its continuing appeal to the general mass of people. Generally speaking, however, neither the United States nor Canada has as yet produced more than a very few songs which are in the least likely to live longer than a few years or months. There is far too much of a facile prettiness or sweetness in the popular music of the day. The "Moonlight Bay" and similar insanities have too many admirers among us, and imitations with trifling variations of popular songs from other countries. It seems as if a nation cannot begin to sing great songs till it begins to feel intensely. The comfortable pursuit of material prosperity, the dollar philosophy, may be in some respects harmless, but it will not fill forth the passionate intensity of emotion which finds its only expression in song, which live and throbs through the years.

It is somewhat surprising that the tremendous struggle of the late war did not produce any great songs in Canada. It did produce at least one great poem which seems destined to live—Colonel John McCreck's "In Flanders Fields"—one of the outstanding war poems of the whole world. It has no great songs that America will produce no great songs till the day when she is in the passes of the Coast ranges, and the white and yellow races are clashing in a deadly grapple. It is no denying theory—that music is like the crystal's pearl, a beautiful product of great suffering.

CANADIAN NAVAL POLICY

At the approaching Imperial Conference questions of defence will be amongst the most important which will be up for discussion, and naval defence is still probably the most important for the British Empire. It is well to realize that at the present moment Canada has at its disposal no naval defence of her own and contributes nothing to the naval defence furnished to her by Great Britain. The Canadian naval units donated by Great Britain are for the most part out of commission, and the numbers and training of the Canadian naval ratings, regulars and reserves are insignificant.

This is not a creditable state of affairs. Peace and economy are admirable things, but a peace secured and protected by some one else, and an economy obtained by spending are not in the least admirable. We have sufficiently large coast lines on the Atlantic and Pacific with sufficiently important cities and industries located on them to make it necessary both from the point of self-interest and self-respect that we should be able to protect them. It is not the slightest use dodging the issue by saying that Canada does not approve of militarism or navalism, if that is a more strictly correct term, or that there is no danger to provide against, or that we put our trust in the inherent peacefulness of our policy or our devotion to the dictates of reason rather than of force. That is just sheer unmitigated folly to cover the fact that some sections of our people do not want to incur either the trouble or the expense of our own naval protection, and prefer to continue to hide behind the skirts of the mother navy. An arrangement whereby proper in the days of our infancy, but wholly out of place now that we have come to nationhood, and haughtily insist on signing our own single name to fishery treaties which we have no means whatever of enforcing. The Liberal party has a poor record in this respect. One has only to remember the rejection by the Liberal majority in the Senate of the Borden government's proposed contribution of three dreadnaughts to the British navy, ships which might have been of priceless value in the late war before it ended. The arguments then employed were the same as are now being employed—no danger, no necessity, no obligation, all of which might be more truthfully exchanged for no inclination.

FIRE INSURANCE—IMPOR-TANT JUDICIAL DECISION

In June last the Supreme Court of Canada delivered a decision in a Saskatchewan case which is possibly of considerable importance to people in Alberta and all of Canada. This was the case of The Colonsay Hotel Company et al. against The Canadian National Fire Insurance Company et al. The Court decided—and by doing so reversed the decision of a Supreme Court Judge of Saskatchewan and the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal—that in the event of an insured building being destroyed by fire the amount payable under the insurance policy or policies was not to be based on the replacement value of the building, but on their actual cash value to the owner at the time of the fire. The effect of this decision may be thus: A man insures a building for $100,000. It is destroyed by fire at the time of the insurance. He pays the insurance premiums on this policy for some years. Time or circumstances change in the place. He may leave the town and the building may be temporarily empty. There may be a general temporary depression. The value of the building for purposes of sale or present use drops to, say, $50,000. Then it is burnt. According to this decision the owner cannot recover more than the cash value of $50,000, though it might cost $150,000 to replace the building, and though a few years hence its value might be greatly enhanced by the passing away of the depression and business. On the other hand, the building at the time of insurance was worth only $50,000, and was insured for two-thirds of that sum, and through a great boom or other change its value rose to $150,000, and it was then burnt, there is no question of the insurance company paying under the policy two-thirds of the increased value. They will pay no more than the face value of the policy.

There is no reason to question the legal accuracy of the Court's decision. That is not a matter which either laymen or ordinary lawyers can do without presumption, but there is ground for questioning the justice of the law as it stands and has been interpreted in this decision. If a company gives a policy for a certain amount and collects premiums based on that amount, and through no fault or fraud of the insured his building suffers a possibly quite temporary depreciation, it seems manifestly unfair that he should be paid on the basis of that depreciated value in the event of a loss. Surely the replacement value is the equitable measure of the loss. Surely there is something quite unfair and onerous in the insurance company being able to reap an unlimited advantage from depreciation in value, while at the same time being absolved from loss through enhancement of value. The risks of over-insurance would not be increased if the replacement value were made the measure of compensation subject of course to allowance for wear and tear through time and weather. There is something very like a legalised robbery of the insured involved under such circumstances, and breaches of contract are only of temporary advantage to any one. The insurance companies and their legal advisers, as well as provincial legislatures might do well to consider this decision, and take steps to remedy any injustice created as the result of it or of the law laid down by it.

PROHIBITION IN THE STATES

A report upon the effects of prohibition in the United States made by Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador at Washington, and dated June 14, has been issued by the British Foreign Office. It contains estimates prepared by the Anti-Saloon League, the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and the Federal Prohibition Unit of the Treasury. In nearly every case the Treasury agrees with the Anti-Saloon League. Both of these estimates of the quantity of liquor consumed at 20 per cent. of the amount before prohibition; the arrests for drunkenness at 50 per cent., and the deaths from alcoholism at 20 per cent. The only serious divergence is in the estimate of the cost of the Anti-Saloon League estimates at 45 per cent. of the earlier figure, and the Treasury states is 100 per cent. The Association Against Prohibition makes the figure 25 per cent. greater by a comparison of official returns from thirty large cities, but this estimate is disputed. There is no doubt that prohibition has been effective in the rural districts and the smaller towns. It has been less effective on the seaboard and along the Great Lakes. Sir Auckland reports that savings deposits have increased 40 per cent.; that the wage-earner has more money to spend on his home and family, and that factory production has increased.

Confirmation of the substance of Sir Auckland's report is found in a statement by Judge Gary, Chairman of the Board of the United States Steel Corporation, the largest employer of labor in that country. I have no hesitation in saying with emphasis that the Volstead Act and State laws for prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors have been very beneficial to the industry of this country and to the workmen connected with it and their families. While there have been violations of these laws, particularly in the larger cities, yet as a total result of the prohibitory laws there has been a large decrease in the use of liquor, at least in the vicinity of our various plants throughout the country. There has been a noteworthy decrease in the numbers of jails, asylums and hospitals. There has been an increase, and a large increase, in the bank balances of savings deposits. The health of the people has improved. The families of workmen are better clothed, better sheltered, better fed. The attendance of the workmen and their families at church, at the children in schools, and of all of them at camp, legitimate, healthful resorts and places of amusement, has materially increased. The sale and use of automobiles has been largely increased by the fact that a large majority of the workmen now prefer to take excursions with their families by automobile instead of spending their time at the saloons or other places and wasting their money in practices that are physically injurious instead of beneficial.

Judge Gary said at a meeting of steel men recently one of them stated that the families of the workmen in the steel mills would vote with practical unanimity in favor of total prohibition. He added that, all in all, there is no doubt that a large preponderance of the workmen of the United States are in favor of the prohibition of the sale and use of all intoxicants from the standpoint of good morals, good economics and peaceful social relations.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Sunday memorial services in Edmonton are reported to have been more than ever before impressive and solemn. As people see more and more the ruin of many of the fine countries of Europe, and realize what this country was saved from by the sacrifices of those that served and died in the late war, they also realize the great debt owing to the allied soldiers.

The Edmonton Bulletin is sticking at nothing in an effort to discredit Sapiro, to hinder the wheat pool or to harm the farmers. The latest gem of wisdom let drop in their editorial columns is the statement that Sapiro did not come because the farmers wanted him, and two of the newspapers were shrewd enough to bring him, but that he was sent up by the American farmers to persuade the Canadian farmers to hold their wheat off the market. What we wonder is, who pays the Bulletin for their chatter.

Another Alderman must be elected to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of E. M. Smith from the city. Men who have served in that capacity do not seem anxious for another term. But that he was sent up by the American farmers to persuade the Canadian farmers to hold their wheat off the market. What we wonder is, who pays the Bulletin for their chatter.

Drumheller miners are threatening another strike because the mine operators insist on running part of their business without consulting the 4000-5000 day employees. Why not have the miners' unions run the mines and hire an operator? Surely if it is so easy to run the mines they could get any number of applicants. But if they did so, we suppose the miners would be on strike against their union in about two weeks.

called "The Whisper of Death" in which they prophesy the bankruptcy of Canada and her consequent annexation by the United States. There is a great deal of truth in their statements that the government are every day neglecting opportunities to make savings. There are a great many papers that waste no opportunity to blame the senate for the savings they have forced on the legislature—they still play politics—and let the country go to the demimoon bow-wow.

Okanagan and Fruit Conservation

The view is that of a flourishing new fruit district in the Okanagan Valley near which Mrs. Smith (inset) has opened her dehydration plant (bottom left).

THE fruit products industry of Mrs. M. B. Smith of Naramata, Okanagan Valley, is a story of Canadian initiative that has assumed large proportions. After extensive research work and experimenting on a small scale, Mrs. Smith is this year opening up a large plant for the dehydration of fruit at Poplar Grove, between Naramata and Penticton, where seventy fruit products will be prepared instead of eleven as sent out by Mrs. Smith from her ranch on the benches.

The site of the new factory is a point in the very heart of the fruit district and convenient to the railway. A siding of the Kettle Valley Railway will be run into the premises.

The most important factor of the enlarged scope of the work is that the new industry will utilize much soft and perishable fruit that would otherwise go to waste as most of the fruit must be in a tree-ripened condition for dehydration and therefore much too ripe to ship.

Mrs. Smith was visiting on the prairies in the early stages of the war when conservation of food was beginning to be a vital question. She saw dried logan berries for the first time and it led her to look on the possibilities of other fruits and vegetables. Later, visiting in the Okanagan Valley, she was much concerned over the large quantity of fruit and vegetables that could not be shipped so, with bread vision and patriotic ideas, she began the evaporation of fruit. Mrs. Smith made an extensive study of the work and persisted, despite the fact that men of experience declared that she could not dry fruit, other than apples. Now she is in the unique position of being the first one in Canada who has dried fruit, other than apples, on a commercial basis. Her dried peach is the only totally peeled peach on the market, either in Canada or the United States.

Mrs. Smith, being very much interested in women, declares that there is a large opportunity for women in this work. Having no desire to keep a monopoly of the new industry of which she may be said to be the founder, she hopes that all women in fruit growing districts may start small evaporating plants to care for their surplus produce, not only for their own households but also for export.

By dehydration a large part of the fruit and vegetables which otherwise spoil is saved. The products are so reduced in weight and bulk that one railway car or one ship will carry as much dehydrated fruit as ten of fresh.

Mrs. Smith, in continuing to make a study of conditions, is opening up a new field and demonstrating that women are the natural housekeepers of the race.

Ontario, a few years ago, have been added to the mineral collection of the Canadian National Museum in Winnipeg. The plant was considerably enlarged recently.

GERMANY GRABS ALL THE FOREIGN MONEY IN SIGHT

First Move Made in Plan for Stabilization of the Very Greatly Depreciated Currency.

Berlin, August 23.—The compulsory requisitioning for collection of foreign currency wherever found is provided for in the government's program of emergency measures which were announced yesterday. The announcement of the drastic procedure was made in the course of a conference between Chancellor Stresemann, Finance Minister Hilferding and Minister of Economy Hammer, regarding the government and a delegation from the league of industrialists.

The government previously had appealed the representatives of Berlin's banks of its determination to gather in all gold and foreign currencies wherever they are not surrendered voluntarily. The chancellor frankly informed the leaders of financial big business that the government would not countenance the slightest attempt to evade the provisions of the forthcoming emergency ordinance and would deal with all slackers in the most drastic manner.

Gather in All Foreign Money

It is proposed to be content with a formal appeal to patriotism; all foreign money will be gathered in without much formality, the owners being reimbursed with paper marks. The funds thus obtained will be devoted to part in an effort to regulate the internal financial chaos which is causing an unwarranted advance in prices of foreign commodities and also to establish a steady reserve from which food purchases abroad may be made.

Some Heavy Fines

The government's money draft ordinance will be published publicly tomorrow morning. The ordinance provides excessive money fines and the confiscation of private property for the wilful concealment or possession of foreign currencies, and demands voluntary declaration of such holdings on the part of owners. The extent to which holdings will be requisitioned depends on whether the owners are making good for legitimate business purposes.

What Will Be Realized

The government expects to realize between two hundred million and three hundred million gold marks from the initial raid, and expects the action will stimulate a desire to invest foreign currencies in the new internal government loan. Stresemann has acquired reichsbank leaders and members of the federal council with the contents of the new measures and has found all parties approving its provision.

Death Penalty Possible

London, August 23.—A dispatch to the Central News from Berlin says speculation in foreign currencies will be ruthlessly suppressed. The dispatch adds that the German government has decided to inflict the death penalty in the worst cases of infringement on its financial regulations and mete out hard labor sentences in others.

NEW EUROPEAN WAR IS WORLD MENACE—SMUTS

General Hertzog Gives Interpretation of South African Premier's Speech.

Capetown, South Africa, Aug. 23.—"A new European war states us in the face, this time with France. That is the message which Premier Smuts gave us last week," declared General Hertzog, leader of the Nationalist party, Wednesday, in a statement commenting on Premier Smuts' speech at the South African party's congress at Bloemfontein, in which the premier appealed for South Africa to stand in sympathy with Britain in her effort to save Europe from destruction.

General Hertzog said that, although the premier knew that Europe was moving towards war, he neglected the opportunity of obtaining a mandate from parliament as to where the Union of South Africa should partake in the war if it came, but left the question to be dealt with at the imperial conference. He protested at considerable length against "this flagrant unconstitutional action" and warned Premier Smuts that this would lead to a return of discord and bitterness in the Union of South Africa.

Mount Mary Vaux in the Canadian National Rockies, which has been considered inviolable, has now been climbed by four Americans. Dr. Emily J. Waidencomb, Kent, Miss Mary Blackie, Medina, Ohio, Douglas Sutherland, secretary of the Civic Federation of Chicago, and Ben Herzberg, Chicago attorney. The party left Jasper six weeks ago determined to make the ascent and after traversing almost trackless wilds accomplished their objective. Immigration returns for the current year show a very large increase in the number of new settlers coming to Canada from Great Britain, United States and European countries.

The total value of building permits issued in Canada during June was $50,674,800, compared with $40,657,200 in May.

If the telephone wires in Saskatchewan were placed in a continuous straight line, they would girdle the earth at the equator twice and go half way round again. In other words, the telephone mileage is $3,331, according to a annual report of the Department of Telephones for last year.

GASOLINE PRICES

The gasoline users of Canada at the present time are taking only a cursory interest in the sensational changes in prices in the United States. They look anxiously at the retail stations daily to see if some old card, "Gasoline 38 cents, provincial tax 2 cents, total 40 cents." They feel that the name liquid in slighter smaller quantities and of superior grade is selling across the line at lower prices than half the amount. It is interesting, but nothing very much more to the man who has just paid for eight gallons of gasoline and is leaving nowhere, did nothing and got nowhere. In effect the report was that the price of gasoline was high because it was high.

The investigation by United States will be much more vigorous and we should get the benefit of anything that happens.

BY THE RED RIVER

(1) A grain of Red River carter laden with corn that travelled down Portage Avenue, the longest street in the world, from Fort Edmonton to the Canadian Pacific yards, Winnipeg.
(2) Fort Garry Gate, Winnipeg.
(3) A part of "Lower Fort Garry" known as "The Stone Fort" still in good repair.

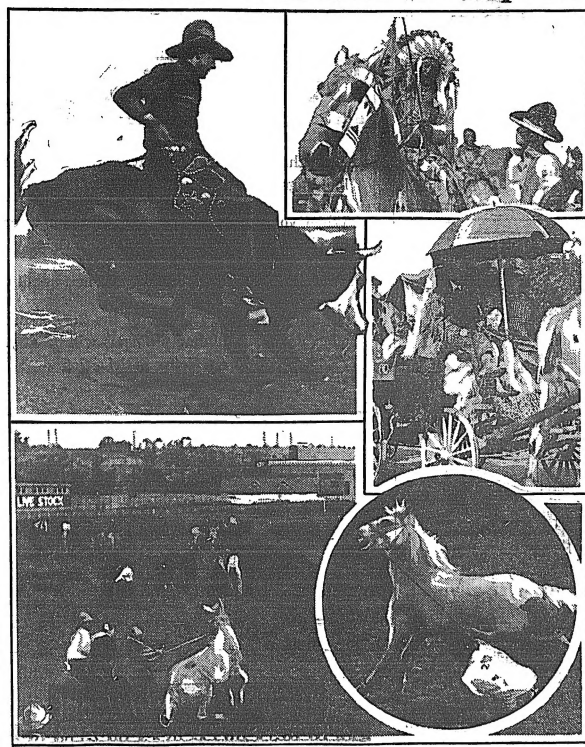

NOT long since, Fort Garry was the point of exchange between the traders and hunters of the plains—the bartering point of the great fur country to the west. The fur traders flocked around the fort, snatching every opportunity for trade and thus, within a stone's throw of Fort Garry, was begun the foundation of the city of Winnipeg. The late sixty miles to the north had long since been named "Winnipeg," a contraction of the Cree Indian "Win-nipew," meaning "win"—murky, and "Nipi"—water, so the name was adopted for the new metropolis.
Across the river was the old Catholic settlement of St. Boniface and one ranges up and down the corridors of time and history walking its streets, overshadowed by great, old trees, gazing in the mellowed cathedral and buildings, with the imprint of time on them. It was as early as 1817 that a band of French soldiers made their headquarters at Point Douglas and established St. Boniface.
There are now over 500 miles of streets in Winnipeg and many of the same are rich in history.

THE GOLF TOURNAMENT

Was Great Success—Large Attendance from Outside Points

Probably the most successful golf tournament ever held in the Province outside Calgary or Edmonton, was the tournament of the Red Deer Golf and Country Club on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. With delightful weather, a beautiful course in splendid condition, a large number of entries and a big attendance from outside, the tournament went over in fine shape. Visitors were present from Edmonton, Lacombe, Hanna, Calgary, Innisfail, Olds, and also a number of commercial travellers. The visitors were led in their praise of Red Deer's beautiful course, and of its splendid condition, and not a little credit is due to Mr. Irvine Taylor, the obliging caretaker, who has worked night and day to bring the course up to its present high standard.
S. H. Campbell, of Edmonton, won the Central Alberta Championship by defeating Mr. H. Shaw, of Edmonton, who holds the Edmonton city championship, in a game that went to the 15th hole before a decision was reached.
The local golfers made a fine showing. Mrs. M. Greig winning the ladies championship by defeating Miss Pennycook, of Calgary; Geo. Lindsay won

LEATRICE JOY IS KITCHEN SLAVEY IN "MINNIE."

"Minnie," Marshall Neilan's latest picture released through Associated First National, will be at the Rex Theatre, tonight. "Minnie," like all of Neilan's productions, is said to be exceptional entertainment. There is not a dull moment in it. It is a very human story about a household drudge who is lonely and who one hesitates to let her go. Her father owns the hotel in the town, but he is so inter-ested in a radio invention that he neglects all the work. But Minnie has ideas and she uses them to the discomfort of everybody, including herself. The picture is full of incidents that develop hearty laughter, but underneath it all is the throbs of drama.

Mott Moore and Leatrice Joy are featured in "Minnie." The others in the cast are George Barnum, Josephine Crowell, Helen Lynch, Raymond Griffith, Richard Wayne, Tom Wilson and George Dromgold.

Edmonton, August 25.—Charles D. Cline, a farmer living west of Wetaskiwin, is held here on a murder charge in connection with the death of a neighbor, Hal B.
